

Magellan Hosted its 5th Annual S.T.A.R. Summit on May 25 in Cambria County to Celebrate Recovery and Resiliency Efforts

Magellan Behavioral Health of Pennsylvania hosted its fifth annual S.T.A.R. (Success, Treatment, Advocacy, Recovery) Summit on May 25 in Johnstown at the Bottleworks Ethnic Arts Center, in collaboration with Behavioral Health of Cambria County and the Cambria County Behavioral Health Services Program. This event highlighted positive stories involving recovery and resiliency in Cambria County and approximately 125 local stakeholders, providers and community members attended.

The S.T.A.R. Summit included:

- Two keynote presentations from author, Michael Runningwolf and recovery ecosystem coalition coordinator, Jason Riligio.
- Awards and recognition
- Resource tables

The event also continued its tradition of recognizing leaders in the local community that have had a true impact on recovery and resiliency. The following awards were presented to the winners in attendance.

S.T.A.R. Summit awards:

- Excellence in Advocacy by an Elected Official
- Excellence in Mental Health Treatment
- Leadership in Recovery
- Individual Achievement Award
- Recovery Support Professional of the Year
- Excellence in Family Support
- Community Impact/Excellence in Advocacy
- Rising Star Award
- Social Justice Perseverance Award
- Youth Leadership Award

“It was wonderful to be in person to recognize the impact of our award winners. All of the award winners go above and beyond in their effort to create additional recovery opportunities for members,” said Tracy Shultz, director of operations for Magellan Healthcare in Cambria County.
